EXTRACTS.

At the Yearly Meeting of Friends, held in Philadelphia, by adjournments from the 14th day of the Fifth month to the 18th of the same, inclusive, 1894.

Reports were received from all our constituent branches, and the one hundred and thirty-one Friends therein named as representatives to attend the service of this meeting now being called, were all present except seven; for the absence of two, sufficient reasons were assigned.

Minutes for Friends in attendance from other Yearly Meetings were produced and read as follows:

For Darlington Hoopes, a minister from Little Falls Monthly Meeting, Md., held Fifth month 8th, 1894.

For Isaac Wilson, a minister from West Lake Monthly Meeting, held at Bloomfield, Ontario, Fourth month 19th, 1894.

For Robert S. Haviland, a minister from Chappaqua Monthly Meeting, held at Chappaqua, N. Y., Fifth month 10th, 1894.

For Joshua B. Washburn, an elder from Chappaqua Monthly Meeting, held Fifth month 10th, 1894.

For Cornelius White, a minister from West Lake Monthly Meeting, Ontario, held Third month 15th, 1894.

For Jeremiah J. Starr, a minister from Deer Creek Monthly Meeting, held at Broad Creek, Md., Second month 15th, 1894. Endorsed by Nottingham Quarterly Meeting, held at Little Britain, Third month 2nd, 1894.

Epistles from the Yearly Meetings of New York, Baltimore, Ohio, Indiana, Genesee and Illinois, were received and read. They are inserted in the Appendix commencing at page 43. To respond as way opens to these evidences of Christian regard, and also to assist the Clerks in gathering the exercises of the meeting, and in transcribing and forwarding the Epistles, a committee was appointed.

The Representatives were desired to propose to our next sitting the name of a Friend to serve the meeting as Clerk, and the names of two Friends to serve as Assistant Clerks the present year. They were further desired to propose the names of Friends to compose a committee to unite with a committee of Women's Meeting in auditing the accounts of the Treasurer and of the Trustees appointed by this meeting; in examining the securities in their keeping; reporting the sum necessary to be raised the ensuing year; nominating a Friend to serve as Treasurer, a Friend to serve as Recorder, and two Friends to act as correspondents of the Yearly Meeting.

Second Day—Afternoon.

The Representatives reported that they had met as directed, and were united in proposing Emmor Roberts for Clerk, and Alfred Moore and Isaac H. Hillborn for assistant Clerks, who, on separate consideration, were united with and accordingly appointed to the respective services. They also proposed the names of Friends to join a Committee of Women's Meeting in examining the Treasurer's accounts, etc., who were united with and appointed.

The Committee on Education and Schools produced the following report, which was read and approved. The Committee was continued and authorized to draw on the Treasurer for necessary expenses.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION AND SCHOOLS.

To the Yearly Meeting:

The schools under the care of committees appointed in our monthly or preparative meetings now number thirty-three, one having been established at Christiana during the year, and they have nearly all been reported to the Committee on Education and Schools, by members of sub-committees appointed to visit them. The reports indicate that the schools are generally in a satisfactory condition, and that the grade of education has improved in some localities. Some have experienced the effect of the prevailing business depression, and the Yearly Meeting's Committee has received more applications than usual for help, but we believe that the year has been a prosperous one for the cause of education in our Society.

Four schools have been reorganized by the sub-committees in charge of such work, and have been returned again to the care of local committees. Five others have received attention. We would again urge parents to send their children to these schools, thus manifesting an interest in their maintenance, and an appreciation of the standard of teaching. In the majority of cases we can not but feel that it is an advantage to the child, the parents, and the meeting that these schools should be attended and encouraged by our members. If the diligent care that is exercised by the local committees and the Yearly Meeting's Committee accomplishes its object, our schools are worthy of the patronage of those who desire their children to receive a guarded education. And when parents are unable to pay the full tuition, we repeat our oft-expressed desire that the monthly meeting extend the needful assistance.

The Training School has been in operation at Woodstown, N. J., this year, with a class of twelve pupil teachers. The report from this school is both encouraging and satisfactory.

Two conferences have been held in Philadelphia and one in Moorestown since last report. The aim has been to extend practical help to teachers and school committees, and we hope that even those who, having larger experience, have been called upon to instruct others, have not failed to reap some benefit from the interchange of views which always forms a part of the proceedings.

The usual meetings of the committee have been held with a good attendance, and continued interest in the education of our children manifested.

The committee has reluctantly released Wm. Wade Griscom from the position of Clerk, after nineteen years of service.

Orders have been drawn upon the Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting for $1,718.65.

LEWIS V. SMEDLEY.
LUCY SMYTH COOPER.

The Committee on the bequest of John M. George, deceased, produced a report, which was read and approved. The Committee was released on the appointment of a new Committee.

A committee was appointed to act in conjunction with Women's Meeting in bringing forward to a future sitting the names of suitable Friends to constitute a new Committee.

(For this Report see page 63)

The Committee on Philanthropic Labor made a report which was read and accepted. The committee was continued (excepting Frances C. Chambers, who was released at her own request), encouraged to further labor, and authorized to draw on the Treasurer for necessary expenses.

(For this Report see page 74)

Fifteenth of the Month and Third of the Week.

The Committee appointed in 1892 to revise the Book of Discipline produced a report, the reading of a portion of which engaged the attention of the meeting.

Third Day—Afternoon.

The remaining portion of the report of the Committee to revise our Book of Discipline was read and the report was weightily considered.

Sixteenth of the Month and Fourth of the Week.

The Committee appointed at a former sitting to propose the names of Friends to constitute the Committee to have charge of the George School made a report. The Friends therein named were united with, appointed for the ensuing year, and directed to report to the next Yearly Meeting.

The sum of thirty thousand dollars of the principal of the Trust Fund, and all the income now on hand and that to accrue during the coming year, was appropriated for the use of this Committee.

The Trustees of the Bequest of John M. George were directed to pay to the Treasurer of this Committee the amounts above appropriated as the same may be required for their use.

(For the names of this Committee see page 68)

The following report from the Committee on Distant and Isolated Members was presented, read and approved. The Committee was continued, and authorized to draw on the Treasurer for necessary expenses.

To the Yearly Meeting:

The Committee on Distant and Isolated Members has held two meetings since the last annual report.

All the Monthly Meetings through their correspondents have been asked to make the necessary corrections in the lists of their Isolated Members as published in the Extracts.

It is also recommended: that where these distant members reside near an established Friends' Meeting the Monthly Meeting of which they are members request the meeting near which they have removed to exercise a friendly care over them until way shall open for their certificates of membership to be forwarded.

The expenses of the Committee amount to one dollar, and an order has been drawn upon the Treasurer for that sum.

ELIZABETH LLOYD, Clerk.

The Committee on First-Day Schools made the following report, which was read, considered and approved. The Committee was continued, and authorized to draw on the Treasurer for necessary expenses.

To the Yearly Meeting: The interest in the subject assigned to this committee has been sufficiently maintained to secure a fair attendance at its several meetings held during the year. The committee during the past year has pursued about the same course as that previously followed, entrusting the work in the various Quarters to sub-committees consisting of members of this committee residing within the limits of each Quarter. From the reports of these sub-committees we ascertain that the schools in the several sections appear to be doing well. In Philadelphia the work is encouraging. Many of the young people assist in teaching, and an increasing number of these remain to meeting. Green Street school, however, has been laid down within the past year, owing in a measure to the fact that the neighborhood has changed, and the few children who are left are not Friends. In all other sections earnest labor is reported, an increased interest is manifested in many, and nothing of a particularly discouraging character appears. Evidences of new life are seen in some quarters, additional hands having lent their aid to the work. It is an encouraging fact that in many places the entire meeting is in unison with the work. The visits of interested friends afford much encouragement to those engaged. While the First-day school may not have added so materially to our membership as some may have hoped in the beginning of the concern, it is cheering to know that in some meetings there have been new members added, it is believed through the influence of the schools; one report says that five members of the school have been received into membership within a few months, and similar encouraging statements come from a number of quarters.

The information is also received that some not in membership have become much interested in Friends.

The securing of good literature for the young people is an important branch of the labor. To this end much time and care have been given to the selection of suitable books, and a number of small libraries have been formed which will circulate among the schools on application to the committee in charge. For this purpose over $400 has been raised by voluntary contributions, nearly all of which has been expended, and 8 cases have been filled and forwarded, 12 schools having already had the benefit of these libraries, where they seem to be appreciated. They will be loaned to schools desiring them free of charge except for expenses of transportation, and at the expiration of a stated time they will be changed from one place to another. By this method a large amount of reading will be furnished with a comparatively small number of books, as each collection will be different. A plan of co-operation between this body and the Philadelphia First-day School Association has been formed, which by concentration of labor, it is hoped, will render more effective the work of both. The committee is convinced that the First-Day School, if conducted in a quiet, loving spirit, under a religious concern for the best interest of our beloved Society, cannot fail to be a valuable auxiliary to our meetings, and must build them up in a substantial way, by teaching the young their individual responsibility as members. A deep concern rests with the committee that we enter into the work with a degree of earnestness commensurate with its importance, and a desire exists that we act in that spirit which alone can make it a success, a humble reliance on the Divine Power.

There are at the present time 79 schools within the limits of the Yearly Meeting, one school was established, and three (3), one of which was a Bible Class, discontinued during the year. Thirteen (13) are not under care of their respective meetings. Of these, one is a family school, and three (3) are unorganized and send no statistics.

The remaining nine report as follows:

Officers and teachers, members, ...	58
Officers and teachers, professors with Friends . .	16
Total	74

Pupils enrolled, members,	235
Pupils having one parent a member,	103
Others,	216
Total	554

Six of these schools are without libraries, and the remaining seven report in the aggregate 2,589 volumes.

The teachers, and in most schools the pupils, generally attend meeting.

Draft has been made on the Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting for $50.24 for necessary expenses.

On behalf of the Committee,

MARY MCALLISTER,
WM. W. BIRDSALL, } Clerks.

Fifth month 5, 1894.

The consideration of the report of the Committee to revise our Book of Discipline was resumed, and after mature deliberation the report was generally united with and adopted by the meeting. The Committee was released.

Sixth-Day—Afternoon.

The meeting directed that the revised Discipline should go into effect on the first of Tenth month, 1894.

The Representative Committee was directed to have a suitable number of copies of the revised Discipline printed, and to forward at the expense of the Yearly Meeting, to each quarterly meeting a sufficient number to supply one to the head of each family. It is authorized to make verbal corrections therein and in the Index and to add a more full history of the formation of the Dicipline.

The Clerks were directed to notify Quarterly meetings, and Quarterly meetings were requested to inform Monthly meetings, of the adoption of the revised Discipline, and that it will take effect Tenth month first, 1894.

The Committee to examine and settle the treasurer's account, etc., presented the following report, which was read and approved. Edmund Webster therein named for Treasurer, and Alfred Moore and Anne M. Griscom proposed for Correspondents, and Anna Jenkins Ferris for Recorder of the Yearly Meeting, were appointed to the respective services.

The Quarterly meetings were directed to forward their quotas of the sum of $3000 to be raised for the use of the meeting to Edmund Webster, Treasurer, No. 1156 South Broad St., Philadelphia.

The Treasurer was authorized to keep the funds of the meeting in the present depositaries. The retiring Treasurer is directed to pay over, transfer and deliver to his successor all money, securities, and property in his possession.

To the Yearly Meeting.

The Committee appointed to examine and settle the Treasurer's Account met with nearly all the members present.

Upon comparing the account with the orders and vouchers it was found correct, showing a balance due the meeting of $3,613.93, which is deposited in the Fidelity Trust and Safe Deposit Company of Philadelphia to the credit of Thomas J. Husband, Treasurer.

On behalf of the Committee,

S. Robinson Coale,

Mary H. Barnard.

Philadelphia, Fifth month 18th, 1894.

The Committee appointed to prepare an Epistle produced an Essay, which was read and approved. The Clerk was directed to furnish a copy thereof, signed by him, to each of the Yearly Meetings with which we correspond.

The following minute, embracing some of the exercises of the Meeting, was read and united with.

We have been profited by a revival of the exhortation, "Trust ye in the Lord forever, for in the Lord Jehovah is everlasting strength."

We are deeply interested and encouraged by the evidences of life among our members in their showing love for our Heavenly Father by keeping His commandments, and in their doing acts of kindness and giving help to His children, thus cementing us into a purer love and drawing others into our fold.

We have been encouraged to the attendance of our meetings, and the thought has been expressed that as the pulse in the body indicates its strength, so does the attendance of our meetings that of our Society.

It is in the silence of the flesh that the quickening and flowing of the life of the spirit is best known. And in these meetings we should cultivate the thought of a common interest, not a selfish one, yet realize that each individual has the fullest right of access into the presence of the Divine, and that no one can shift on to others the burden and responsibility of his approach to God.

In the transaction of the business affecting the several concerns in which this Yearly Meeting has been engaged, the reports of Committees to which the work was assigned received earnest attention, and their labors were approved.

The Committee having charge of the George School, near Newtown, Pa., having reported the school opened and in successful operation, a desire was expressed that it might be conducted in such a manner as to preserve the pupils in the simplicity of living which becomes our profession, avoiding habits of extravagance that in after life would introduce discontent and perhaps open the door to financial trouble, and a concern was expressed that in the selection of teachers and committees to have charge and oversight of our several schools, such be chosen as have a religious concern for the best welfare of the children intrusted to their care, remembering that exemplary life and conversation are of more intrinsic value than mere intellectual attainments.

We were very earnestly cautioned to bear a more faithful testimony against indulging in tobacco.

In our desire that our members may be preserved in quietude and out of the distractions of the world, we have considered with some attention the subject of the enormous outpour of pernicious reading matter, and especially the evil influence of the great newspapers intended to be read on the First day of the week. These journals circulated everywhere in cities and towns, and in rural places within their reach, come at a time when the cares of the week should be laid aside and the full influence of a day of rest with its season of worship should be enjoyed. We believe that the demand they make upon the attention of their readers, especially at the time when it is made, coupled with the sensational and demoralizing character of much of their contents, tends greatly to depress and stifle spiritual life. The neglect of meetings, the indifference to an orderly and appropriate observance of the day of rest, always evils with which we have to contend, have obtained a powerful supporter in these newspapers.

To assist the Clerks in preparing, printing and distributing the Extracts a committee was appointed.

Our sittings have all been well attended. Our labors have been more than usually arduous and important, but we have ever felt the Master with us, and we trust that our work may receive His blessing.

We now adjourn to meet again at the usual time next year if consistent with His will.

EMMOR ROBERTS, Clerk.

OF THE

Yearly Meeting of Women Friends

HELD IN

PHILADELPHIA,

BY ADJOURNMENTS FROM THE FOURTEENTH DAY OF FIFTH MONTH TO THE EIGHTEENTH OF THE SAME INCLUSIVE.

1804.

EXTRACTS.

At a Yearly Meeting of Women Friends, held in Philadelphia, by adjournments from the 14th of Fifth month to the 18th of the same, inclusive, 1894.

Written reports were received from all our constituent Quarterly Meetings, also from the Half-Year Meeting of Fishing Creek, and the representatives from these, upon being called, were present except four; for the absence of two of these sufficient reasons were given.

At the opening of the meeting our hearts were drawn through the voice of supplication to the throne of Divine love, with a petition that we might be preserved in harmony and condescension in the transaction of the business that might come before us.

We were encouraged to a fuller trust in our nearness to the Heavenly Father. In this faith we may enter upon the business of the Yearly Meeting better prepared to transact it to the honor of Truth, with confidence that our Father is at the helm.

To assist the clerks in collecting the exercises of the meeting, a committee was appointed.

To examine the account of the Treasurer of Women's branch of the Yearly Meeting, and nominate a Friend to serve as Treasurer the ensuing year, Annie Shoemaker, Sarah T. Price, Mary E. Thomson, and Anna Mary Martin were appointed.

Minutes for Friends in attendance from other Yearly Meetings were presented and read as follows:

For Darlington Hoopes, a minister, from Little Falls Monthly Meeting, Md.

For Jeremiah J. Starr, a minister, from Deer Creek Monthly Meeting, Md., endorsed by Nottingham Quarterly Meeting.

For Robert S. Haviland, a minister, from Chappaqua Monthly Meeting, N. Y.

For Joshua B. Washburn, an elder from the same meeting.

For Cornelius White, a minister, and his daughter Jemima E. Brown, a member, and companion for her father, from West Lake Monthly Meeting, held at Bloomfield, Ontario.

For Isaac Wilson, a minister, from West Lake Monthly Meeting, held at Bloomfield, Ontario.

A salutation of welcome was extended to these, as well as to those Friends who were present without minutes. The desire was felt that through faithfulness they might be enabled to hand forth the true bread, and thus know a reward for any sacrifice or effort required in the service; and that we might be found in that receptive state in which the good seed sown would be nourished and increased.

Epistles were read from our sisters of New York, Genesee and Indiana, calling forth expressions of renewed interest in this interchange of thought. The earnest desire was expressed that we might be found worthy laborers in the vineyard of the Lord. While we rejoice in the good which is being done toward the uplifting of our fellow-men, let us not lose sight of those deep spiritual truths which lie at the foundation of our faith.

The representatives were desired to confer together at the close of the session, and be prepared to propose to the afternoon meeting the name of a Friend to serve as Clerk, and also the names of two Friends to serve as Assistant Clerks the present year. They were further directed to propose the names of Friends to compose a committee to unite with a similar committee of men Friends in auditing the accounts of the Treasurer and Trustees appointed by Philadelphia Yearly Meeting, in examining the securities in their keeping, reporting the sum necessary to be raised the ensuing year, and nominating a Friend to serve as Treasurer, and two Friends to act as correspondents of this meeting.

Afternoon.

Martha Dodgson, on behalf of the representatives, reported that they conferred together, and were united in proposing Sarah Griscom for Clerk, and Annie Caley Dorland and Matilda Garrigues for Assistant Clerks. The meeting united with the judgment of the representatives, and the Friends named were appointed to these services for the ensuing year.

Susan W. Lippincott, Mary H. Barnard, Jane G. Kinsey, Mary Darlington, Rachel M. Lippincott, and Lydia H. Hall were appointed to unite with a committee of men Friends in examining and settling the Treasurer's account, etc.

Epistles from our sisters of Baltimore, Ohio and Illinois were read, reviving in our hearts the feeling that through this intercourse we may be one another's helpers. A committee was appointed to essay replies to these.

A comprehensive and satisfactory report of the Committee on the John M. George Bequest, was read and approved. Upon deliberation it was the judgment of the meeting that the Committee should be released upon the appointment of another Committee for General Superintendence, to be nominated by a joint Committee of Men and Women Friends. For this service Annie Shoemaker and others were appointed.

Third-Day Morning—Fifth month 15th.

Under the preparing influence of the spirit of prayer the Meeting entered upon the business before it.

The Committee appointed to revise the Book of Discipline submitted a copy of the completed work as its report. A portion of this was read, the remainder being deferred to the afternoon session.

Afternoon.

The reading of the revised Discipline was completed, and upon being considered, general unity was expressed with adopting the report of the Committee, if Men's Meeting should unite with us in judgment.

Fourth-Day Morning—Fifth month 16th.

The joint Committee appointed at a former session to propose the names of Friends to constitute a Committee to have charge of the George School, made a report which was read, considered and approved.

The sum of thirty thousand dollars of the principal of the trust fund, and all the income now on hand, and that to accrue during the coming year, is appropriated for the use of this Committee.

The Trustees of the John M. George Bequest are directed to pay to the Treasurer of this Committee the amounts above appropriated, as required for their use.

Our friend Rebecca J. Cowperthwait expressed a concern to visit Men's Meeting under a feeling of gospel love; she was set at liberty to do so, and Martha Dodgson named to accompany her.

We have had a visit from our friend Jeremiah J. Starr, who counseled us with feelings of loving sympathy, and called to faithfulness in such fields of labor as open before us.

The consideration of the state of our Society was entered into as far as reading the First, Second and Third Queries with their answers, calling forth expressions of living concern from exercised minds.

We were reminded that we need our mid-week meetings now, as much as we ever did. We truly estimate the importance of our Yearly and Quarterly Meetings, yet we should remember that these cannot be properly maintained without a feeling of individual responsibility in the attendance of our smaller meetings. Can we afford to lose these opportunities for the renewal of our strength?

We were exhorted to let Divine love so abound in our hearts that we can in confidence approach one another with counsel and advice, as willing to receive as to give the help which may come from the concern of another on our behalf.

Our younger Friends were tenderly urged to strengthen their hands for work by a compliance with the testimonies of their Society to moderation and modesty in dress, and plainness of speech, that the outward may be a manifestation of the inward life.

Afternoon.

The remaining Queries with their answers were read and considered. We were reminded that these should be taken home to ourselves individually, since they are addressed to no class, but old and young alike are responsible for the answers.

We deprecate the military training prevailing at the present time, often under the pretext of physical development. Mothers were most tenderly exhorted to be faithful to their convictions of right in regard to the indulgence of their children in those things which create a taste for war and its attractions. It may be explained to the boys that these, even as toys, awaken that part of their nature which leads them into wrong-doing, and eventually into unhappiness. Though the mother in her love may hesitate to deny the wishes of her children, yet she may embrace such timely opportunities as offer, to earnestly counsel them in these matters. Though her words seem like seed lost, they may find lodgment, and in the later experience of these young hearts the Heavenly Father's teaching may confirm her efforts. Be faithful, dear mothers, and encouraged to walk firmly in the path you feel to be right, and peace will brood over your spirits. And if you should be gathered into the mansions prepared for you ere the seed bear its fruit, you may trust that the Lord's word shall not return unto Him void, but shall accomplish that for which it was sent. Go forward still, leaning on His arm, and dwelling often in the closet of prayer.

Expression was given to the desire that we, as women, may feel the responsibility and dignity of our position in the home, and an earnest appeal was extended to the young that in establishing new homes it may not be in that spirit which would endeavor to imitate or exceed others, but in moderation and simplicity, leaving time for those higher aims which should engage our thoughts. By using economy in our own households we may secure the high privilege of helping those less affluent than ourselves.

Teachers in our schools were impressively reminded of their great influence in the development of the young minds under their care. May they renewedly covenant with the Heavenly Father, and renewedly feel the privilege of their position, and the responsibility resting upon them.

The report of the Committee on Distant and Isolated Members was read, approved, and the Committee continued.

Fifth-Day Afternoon—Fifth month 17th.

An encouraging and interesting report of the Committee on the subject of First-day Schools was read, approved, and the Committee continued. In connection with this work the prayer arises that we so consecrate ourselves to our Heavenly Father's service, and live so near to Him, that we will receive His anointing, and be able to so teach the truths of Christianity that our children will come into a clearer understanding of them. We need to be better prepared ourselves, to be more devotional and more trusting. Let us be willing to take up our daily cross and follow where He leads, that we may be examples of the truths we endeavor to teach.

A portion of the Report of the Philanthropic Committee was read, embracing the subjects of the Indians, Temperance and Tobacco, and the Colored People. These were separately considered, and were felt to be encouraging in the different departments of work done.

The request made in the Epistle from Baltimore, asking our co-operation in securing to the Seneca Indians the long-delayed payment by the Government of a large amount still due them from the sale of their lands in New York State, was referred to the Indian Committee.

The report on Temperance elicited earnest remark. If there is ground for fear on behalf of any who come within our influence, we should be willing to extend a caution in the spirit of Christian love.

The minutes of the Representative Committee were read and approved. The meeting united with their recommendation that it accept the premises No. 136 North Fifteenth St., for a nominal consideration, clear of lien or incumbrance, and the Trustees of the property of the meeting were directed to accept a conveyance thereof and have the same properly recorded. The Clerks were directed to acknowledge to the donors of the said premises the appreciation of the meeting for their generous gift.

Sixth-Day Morning—Fifth month 18th.

We had at this time a visit from our friend Robert

Hatton, who desired that we should guard every avenue through which harm can enter into our fold.

An interesting report of the Committee on Education and Schools was read, approved, and the Committee continued. The request of Ellen P. Way to be released from this Committee was granted.

A concern was expressed that as the teachers and children in these schools are expected to be present at our mid-week meetings, we should feel it to be but a reasonable service to endeavor to strengthen and encourage them by our presence.

The Committee appointed to essay replies to the Epistles received from other Yearly Meetings, produced one, which was read and united with. The Clerk was directed to sign and forward a copy thereof to each of the Yearly Meetings with which we correspond.

The Committee appointed to audit the account of the Treasurer of Women's Branch of Philadelphia Yearly Meeting, made the following report, which was united with, and Anne M. Griscom re-appointed Treasurer for the ensuing year.

The Quarterly meetings are directed to forward the quotas as heretofore.

REPORT.

"The Committee appointed to audit the report of the Treasurer of the Women's Yearly Meeting, and bring forward the name of a Friend to serve as Treasurer for the ensuing year, report: that they all met and examined the Treasurer's account, compared it with the vouchers, and find it correct, showing a balance due the Yearly Meeting of fifteen hundred and eighty-two dollars and eighty-one cents.

They were united in proposing the name of Anne M. Griscom for Treasurer for the ensuing year.

On behalf of the Committee,

ANNIE SHOEMAKER,
ANNA MARY MARTIN.

The remaining subjects of Peace and Arbitration, and of Improper Publications, contained in the Report of the Committee on Philanthropic Labor, were read. The meeting approved the report, and continued the Committee with the exception of Frances C. Chambers, who was released at her request.

As the various subjects contained in this report were brought before us we were reminded that if a love for those things which are pure and lovely and of good report fill our hearts there will be felt little inclination for those of an opposite character.

A report of the joint committee to examine the accounts of Thomas J. Husband, Treasurer, was read and approved. Edmund Webster, therein named for Treasurer, Alfred Moore and Anne M. Griscom proposed for Correspondents, and Anna Jenkins Ferris for Recorder of the Yearly Meeting, were united with, and appointed to the respective services.

The fifth annual report of the Trustees of the Bequest of John M. George was read and approved.

Men Friends informed that they had read the report of the Committee on the Revision of the Discipline and approved its labors. Women's Meeting at a previous session having adopted the report subject to the concurrence of Men's Meeting, it was directed that the revised Discipline shall become operative Tenth month 1st, 1894. The Committee was released.

The Clerks of this Meeting were directed to notify the Quarterly Meetings, and the Quarterly Meetings were requested to notify the several Monthly Meetings of the adoption of the revised Discipline, and that it will take effect Tenth month 1st, 1894.

The Representative Committee was directed to have a suitable number of copies thereof printed and to furnish at the expense of the Yearly Meeting a sufficient number to supply one to the head of each family. It was authorized to make verbal corrections therein, and in the Index, and to add a fuller history of the formation of the Discipline.

In returning to our homes and our smaller meetings, we desire to carry with us a fresh resolve to be faithful in the attendance of these gatherings. As this duty presents, and we turn away from the pressing cares of home for this quiet hour, may we realize that the Heavenly Father in His abounding power will bless souls that are thus gathered.

Our Meeting has been large and of unusual responsibility and interest; the spirit of patience, forbearance and love of each other has characterized the various sessions, causing us to feel that the Father's Holy Presence was in our midst, bringing old and young together under the covering of His love. May we manifest our gratitude by bowing in submission to the revealings of His will, and thereby become a people worthy the profession which we make. "Show us Thy mercy, O Lord, and grant us Thy salvation."

The Meeting concluded, to meet at the usual time next year, if consistent with the Divine Will.

CONTAINING EPISTLES RECEIVED FROM OTHER YEARLY MEETINGS, COMMITTEES, ETC.

From the Yearly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, held in New York, from the 29th of Fifth month to the 2d of Sixth month, inclusive, 1893.

To Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of Friends:

DEAR FRIENDS:—We are again assembled in our annual gathering. The hearty greeting as Friend meets Friend attests the loving and kindly interest we hold in each other. A kindred faith unites us in a loving service, and as we receive the welcome greetings from the Yearly Meetings with which we correspond, our hearts respond thereto, and we are thankful to our Father in Heaven who has ordained these earthly ties and these human affections and who has so bountifully provided all things needful for our life and placed within our reach, and the possibility of our attainment of those added blessings which contribute to our comfort and enjoyment.

Our hearts look up to Him, who in His abounding love and thoughtfulness has provided all these blessings, and we query as did the Psalmist of old: "What shall I render unto the Lord for all His benefits toward me?"

Happy will it be for us if our hearts respond as did his:

"I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord. I will pay my vows unto the Lord in the presence of all His people."

We have listened with loving interest to your recital of work accomplished during the year in the Master's vineyard and are glad to feel that we with you can find true and acceptable service for Him in helpfulness to those who are in need.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

We are realizing more and more the value that our younger members are to us, and the strength they are able to give to our meetings: and the desire has been expressed that the time of holding our meetings for discipline might be so arranged as to conveniently enable them to attend, and that the Philanthropic work may be incorporated with the business of the meetings in such manner as to increase the interest of all our members in them.

The work of our Philanthropic Committee in its various branches has been interestingly presented, and it is manifest that there is a growth in this work.

The impulse given to us to do good by the discussion of these reports, is of great value. We have broadened the work of this commitee so as to include all the subjects considered by the Philanthropic Union.

We rejoice that in the avenues now opened for useful service by the Society in Philanthropic lines, our young people are coming forward in the service, and, responding to the Divine voice speaking within each soul, find opportunity for the development of the humane instincts of their nature in fields of usefulness within our own Society and towards those who are without the fold.

"The harvest truly is great, but the laborers are few.

Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that he would send forth laborers into His harvest."

Let us as Friends emphasize the truth that the harvest field is the Lord's—and that He is, indeed, Lord of the harvest, and that we are laborers for Him only as we are sent forth by Him.

We have enjoyed the company and services of interested Friends from other Yearly Meetings and are thankful for their presence and words of cheer both social and religious.

Our attention has been drawn to the danger of placing too great a dependence on the vocal ministry of the few, forgetting that we each have a duty to perform, a work to do, a sermon to preach by our lives; that our testimony in favor of a free ministry of the gospel places upon each of us a responsibility, being as it is an acknowledgment that each of us has a ministry to perform.

We have had a committee engaged in the work of revising our Discipline for the past two years. The revised Discipline was submitted by the committee this year and was adopted with great unanimity by both meetings without change. Although some may have desired slight changes on some points, not a voice was raised in objection when it finally came up for adoption. It is to go into effect Ninth month 1st, 1893.

Our Meeting has been large. The usual interests which have engaged our attention have been weightily considered. The bond of love which unites us to God and binds us together as a people has been strengthened by our thus coming together for these days of religious intercourse.

Humbly invoking a continuance of the Divine favor which has been so fully extended in the past, we "Commend you to God and to the word of His grace which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance amongst all them which are sanctified."

In love toward you, we are your friends.

Signed by direction of the New York Yearly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, held at New York, from the 29th of Fifth month to the 2nd of Sixth month, inclusive, 1893.

From Baltimore Yearly Meeting of Friends, held by adjournments from the 30th of Tenth month to the 2nd of Eleventh month, inclusive, 1893.

To the Yearly Meeting of Friends to be held in Philadelphia, Men's Branch:

DEAR FRIENDS: Being permitted once more to assemble in our Annual Gathering, we turn with pleasure to the helpful duty of carrying on our part of the Epistolary correspondence now existing between us; so eminently profitable to the widely scattered members of our common family. These valued evidences of the loving remembrance of our distant brothers, were read in the early part of our meeting, to our comfort and edification.

The presence of dear friends from neighboring Yearly Meetings, with minutes and otherwise, is gratefully acknowledged. Encouraged by their counsel, and inspired to greater faithfulness to the Divine revelation of God in every soul, we trust their labors may result in our greater dedication to the cause of Truth and obedience to the Divine requirings.

A Youths' Meeting on First-day, and others held in the interest of First-day Schools and the different lines of philanthropic work in which we are engaged, and the reports of committees having them in charge, have encouraged us to continue in these works of practical righteousness. We have decided to devote, hereafter, Fourth-day afternoon of Yearly Meeting week to the interests of First-day Schools, in addition to the time heretofore appropriated to that purpose.

The condition of our Religious Society as presented by the answers to the Queries forwarded by our constituent branches, is favorable and encouraging. Pending the consideration of the important subjects embraced in the Queries, much valuable counsel was extended, and our attention was called to the blessed attribute of Love as the foundation and crown of the Christian character.

The reading of the Report on Indian Affairs excited a lively interest; and while there has been great improvement in their condition there is still need for our watchful care and oversight of them. Our committee was encouraged to use all proper means in their power to protect this much wronged people in all the rights and privileges guaranteed by justice and the laws of our land. There being a large sum of money still due the Seneca Indians of New York, once the object of much care on the part of Friends, it is hoped that, in order that this just debt may be speedily discharged, there may be a united influence brought to bear on Congress by all of our Yearly Meetings in having an early appropriation made for the settlement of these claims.

While we have missed the presence of dear friends with whom we have labored in the past in the Lord's vineyard, some of whom have been called to the higher state where each shall reap the reward of his labor, we have an abiding confidence that the Lord of the vineyard is still able and will qualify other laborers to carry on His work, as they are submissive to His forming hand.

During the several sessions of our Meeting, in which we have had to consider and settle subjects of great interest to the body and the individual membership, we humbly acknowledge a sense of heartfelt gratitude for the gathering influence of the power of Love, and our deliberations have terminated in great harmony and unity, and we trust to the honor of the Great Head of the Church.

Commending you with ourselves to the same sure fountain of mercy, love and power, as sufficient for our spiritual development here and establishment in the mansions of the blessed hereafter, we remain

Your friends,

Signed by direction and on behalf of Baltimore Yearly Meeting of Friends, Men's Branch.

EDWARD STABLER, JR., Clerk.

From Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends, held by adjournment from the 28th of Eighth month to the 30th of the same, inclusive, 1893.

To Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of Friends:

DEAR FRIENDS:—Once more we have been permitted to assemble, a little band, to offer worship to our Heavenly Father and to discharge the various duties that as link by link, bind us in an organized body, and as each needs to be firm, and kept in its proper place, to fulfill its part in the entire structure, so the right performance of individual requirements is neceesary that the whole working may be in harmony. It is in this harmony that we desire to be found working, and rejoice in the measure of practical love and condescension with which the good Father has been pleased to clothe us at this time.

The friendly greetings from you, as well as those from other Yearly Meetings, have revived in our hearts the beauty and consistency of being co-workers in a common interest with the view of being each other's helpers, for it has been truly said, "We can best serve our God by serving our fellow men," thus the well ordering of daily life will make us a living epistle to those with whom we come in contact.

We have the company of a few friends from other Yearly Meetings, for which we feel grateful. He who sees our need has drawn the silent sympathetic traveller as well as the dispenser of His, in which we trust both will be abundantly blessed.

The review of Society by the reading and answering of the queries renewed the importance of close searching of heart,

The first and second queries were compared to the corresponding commandments on which is based the law of the prophets.

A concern to change the language of the sixth query was referred from a subordinate meeting, and, in much unity, was adopted, feeling it was better to bear our testimony in this respect to encourage a pure, untrammeled ministry.

The First-day school work is steadily growing, and encouraging reports were received from all our Quarterly Meetings. Two sessions of our Association were held, one of which was devoted largely to exercises in which the children participated, bringing the more experienced in touch with the young life which gives promise to the future of our meetings.

From Indiana Yearly Meeting of Friends, Men's Department, held at Richmond, Indiana, in Ninth month, 1893.

To Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of Friends, Men's Branch, next recurring:

DEAR FRIENDS:—We are fellow-witnesses with you of the fulfillment of that ancient and ever new covenant wherein God's law is written in the heart; that He shows unto men what is good, and that they ought to do justly, love mercy, and walk in humble obedience with Him; that His grace appears, bringing salvation, and teaches the denying of all ungodliness and the lusts of the world, and that we should live soberly and righteously; that nothing is more sure to rational men, even back to the days of youth, than that they ought to be as good and as noble as they can. And blessed are they who do hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled — that which they long for shall be theirs; and godliness is profitable unto all things, having the promise of the life which now is, and of that which is to come.

In this fellowship we send you kindly greetings.

We have received on this occasion your very welcome letter, and letters from the other five Yearly Meetings with which we correspond. It has been pleasant thus to hear from you all, and to learn of the wide-spread interest in the affairs of the church and the maintenance of the spiritual life and general welfare of the widely distributed membership of our beloved Society, and of that Good Samaritan spirit which would minister everywhere to human needs.

We join in the sentiment, expressed in one of the epistles received, that Truth is eternal, and that there can be no real conflict between the Truth recorded and the Truth inspoken; adding that it is still well to remember that the soul needs daily bread and cannot live upon the manna of yesterday.

The epistles have advised us of a wide-spread interest in temperance work, and concern for the suppression of the whole strong drink business — its manufacture, its use, and the traffic therein. The same sentiment animates us, and we have ordered the publication of a declaration to that effect, and announcing it as our duty, by all right means, to hasten the day when the whole desolating business shall be prohibited.

We testify against all tippling, treating, and the use of wine and other strong drinks at meals and in preparing food—practices much more prevalent, damaging and dangerous than is generally understood.

While we were considering the state of Society the common confession recurred that a good deal of remissness prevails in regard to the attendance of meetings—a state of affairs largely referable to the widely-scattered situation of our membership. In all other respects it was comfortable to be able to answer our queries in such way as to show a quite satisfactory fulfillment of our Christian and Society obligations, and we are encouraged to hope for still greater faithfulness hereafter.

We are informed by our Yearly Meeting that it has published a list of its isolated members, with their places of abode, or the like, and it suggests that each Yearly Meeting do the same, to facilitate the gathering of such members into meetings where practicable. We approve the purpose, and think copies of our late Directory may pretty well fill the requirement as regards our isolated members. We have already sent some copies abroad, and are ready to send more if needed. Persons concerned in gathering meetings, as above, or in visiting isolated Friends, can be supplied with copies by addressing either of our correspondents. The duty of inviting into membership such persons as have a unity with us, and are interested in our work and testimonies, has been urged upon our attention, and we have been cited to several cases where nothing hindered valuable accessions but neglect of invitation.

We have addressed a letter to the Governor of Indiana expressing our appreciation of the firm stand he has taken to suppress prize-fighting and its attendant evils in the State; and also a memorial to Congress praying for laws to prevent the transportation through the mails of published acounts of such transactions.

The vice of gambling, and the cunningly-devised schemes which lead to it, claimed attention, and we were admonished to ever teach and exhibit the virtue of fair and just dealing, that no thought of dishonest gains should be awakened in the minds of our little and observing children. The same sort of circumspection as to the contending and warlike spirit was also feelingly urged upon parents, and those having the care of the young, who have a right to a constant example of peaceableness and fairness on our part.

We have had the acceptable company of several ministers, and others, from beyond our own borders, whose presence and labors of love have been very refreshing and instructive.

We shall remember them with tender love, and hope they may enjoy the reward of peace.

Signed on behalf of the Meeting,

DAVIS FURNAS, Clerk.

From Genesee Yearly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, held at Sparta, Ontario, by adjournments from the 11th of the Sixth month, to the 14th of the same inclusive, 1893.

To the Yearly Meeting of Friends held at Philadelphia :

DEAR FRIENDS: Another year has passed away, and again we have been permitted to assemble in our annual gathering.

A welcome shower laid the dust, stimulated the withering flower, and caused nature to assume a changed, invigorated, and refreshed appearance.

As the outward is ofttimes typical of the "inner life," so on the present occasion, the descent of God's holy spirit baptized our minds into a newness of spiritual life, wherein we were wont to exclaim, "Come brother, come sister, let us go up to the house of the Lord."

A large and interesting concourse of people assembled on First-day morning, when the gospel message flowed freely, and many minds were awakened anew to the great fundamental thought, that God is the teacher of His people, that none have need to go to men or books to know His will concerning them, that "Every nation, kindred, tongue and people that fear God and work righteousness are accepted of Him."

In the early part of the meeting for business, the Divine presence was felt to overshadow us, and a tender solicitude was expressed for the absent ones, who through circumstances had been prevented from assembling with us, and a prayer was extended that they might be preserved from the evils surrounding them in the world, and the desire expressed that each individual present might be willing to enter into the service before us, and labor in the ability given.

The Epistles received from the other Yearly Meetings were strengthening and encouraging to us, replete with practical suggestions relating to devotional and humanitarian work.

The thought evolved; "That we should not place undue dependence on the vocal ministry of the few," forgetting that the responsibility should be felt to rest on each individual, to the end that all might endeavor to live practical Christian lives, met a responsive echo in each individual mind present, also a hearty approval was given to the suggestion that our business meetings should be held at a time when our young members could be present, and thus enabled to become laborers in the varied duties devolving on the meeting.

The proposition, "That we join the other Yearly Meetings in the Union for Philanthropic Labor," claimed our most earnest thought, and after a full and free expression of sentiment, the meeting fully approved of the proposition, and appointed a Committee to act in conjunction with the other Yearly Meetings, as far as way may open for them to do.

The First-day School Association held three very interesting sessions, in which practical suggestions and much encouragement were given. By the reports received from the different schools, it appears that no increase in membership has been made the past year, although interest in the work is still unabated, and a Committee was appointed to give such assistance as opportunity may afford.

The Committee on Temperance made an interesting report, in which the statement occurred: "That the time had come, and now is, when all professing Christians should awaken to the fact, that only by sacrificing selfish, or party interest, and the right use of the elective franchise, can we hope to have removed from our statutory laws the sanction of a traffic so directly opposite to Christian principles."

It was also noted that the active part taken by the little boys and girls at the Temperance Conferences, the earnest and impressive manner in which their temperance selections were recited, gave promise of the work that will be done by them in the coming years.

One of our Quarterly Meetings forwarded a proposition, that the Yearly Meeting memorialize the Congress of the United States, to prohibit the use of the mails to all Newspapers, Periodicals, or Circulars that shall publish, or in any way advertise any prize fight or the results thereof, believing it to be a relic of the barbarism of the past, that it fosters and encourages a species of gambling, and degrades and demoralizes the morals of the people. The meeting approving the proposition concluded to not only memorialize the Congress of the United States, but also the Dominion Parliament of Canada on that subject.

No ministering or other Friends from a distance have been with us at this time, except a young Friend from a neighboring Yearly Meeting, whose presence and silent ministrations have been an inspiration to us.

Believing, as we do, that no rightly imposed service should be considered too small for observance, no religious duty too arduous for a faithful and prayerful performance, that we should seek to know what God would have us do, and should then use our utmost endeavor to accomplish it.

In that love and Christian fellowship that knows not of sect or creed, we bid you affectionately farewell, and remain your friends.

Signed by direction and on behalf of the meeting aforesaid.

From Illinois Yearly Meeting of Friends, held by adjournments from the 11th of Ninth month to the 14th of the same, inclusive, 1893.

To Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of Friends:

DEAR FRIENDS:—Expressions of appreciation greeted the encouraging Epistles from the different Yearly Meetings, and we hope to convey to you a portion of the freshness that has covered this our own nineteenth annual gathering. We feel that this interchange of thought among large bodies of people scattered over a great area, and the assurances of steadfast faithfulness in what we trust to be our Heavenly Father's requirements, must in the nature of things exert a powerful influence; and with this view we are thankful that in the more extended work of the Philanthropic Union, Genesee Yearly Meeting too has joined hands with us. We feel this to be one of the many privileges we have to enjoy. May the Giver of all good so illumine our hearts with the light from His holy altar, that we may press forward in our united endeavors, be more earnest and consecrated; then our influence will be extended. We realize that a large field opens for us to work in. Thoughtful minds are forced to see in the ills and distress in the world the need that an army following the Dear Master as our Leader should be greater and continually growing; and it is with hopefulness and thankfulness that we notice among our young people gifted and consecrated minds, knowing that if these continue true, we cannot continue weak.

Now in reference to our Children's Meeting, which this year seems to us in usefulness to be like buds of great promise bursting into fresh blossoms. Here indeed seems a great working ground for rightly qualified ones, whereby the rising generation may find the human part of this wonderful and beautiful world purer than we have found it. An idea impressed upon a growing mind must develop, and either elevate or degrade as that idea may be, and (as was beautifully expressed in our midst) that the word which passes the lips rebounds back to the mind that expressed it, whether the actor will or not, helping to form a character for good or evil. From our far away western fields of labor there has come to us at this time, so much that reminds us of living fountains, meeting the needs and interests and understandings of the child; one incident of peculiar pathos—that of a little boy too young to be fully conscious of his danger on a railroad track in front of an on-coming train was barely saved from destruction; every parent can fully understand how the anthems of joy gladdened the mother as the darling, unharmed, was laid in her arms: then from these solid facts we were led on to the allegory of older children wandering along dangerous ways, such as disobedience to parents or any of the avenues opening out into wickedness,—if through some intervention they too may be saved how all things may be brighter, better, and sweeter—but what crushing sorrow if that attempt come too late.

The Fourth query brought an interesting exercise into the meeting concerning "places of unprofitable diversion," and we believe the expressions brought out were of value to many minds. We know there is in our nature a need of diversion from care, and yet the lines between the profitable and unprofitable may not be so easily drawn, as under the guise of innocence much that is wrong may be concealed, and the door so gradually opened, often making many an aching heart feel the truth of the lines of the poet

"Vice is a monster of such frightful mien
That to be hated needs but to be seen—
But seen too oft, familiar with her face,
We first endure, then pity, then embrace."

We are glad to say that there has been brought impressively before us our responsibility as regards the raising, manufacture, sale and use of tobacco as a stimulant, and we earnestly desire that our members may soon cease to have anything to do with it, as it is considered both useless and injurious.

We are glad to be able to state that our meeting authorized a co-operation with Genesee Yearly Meeting to memorialize Congress to prohibit the use of the U. S. mail for carrying papers that give accounts of prize-fights, etc., believing that such are prejudicial to good morals, and should be placed in the same category with those usually classed as impure and obscene.

With these salutations, and earnest desires for the upbuilding of the Kingdom of Christ in the earth, we remain your Friends. OLIVER WILSON, Clerk.

Testimony and Views of Friends concerning the Scriptures.

Retrospect of Early Quakerism.

During the past year there have been distributed several hundred copies of books and pamphlets.

The Representative Committee, or Meeting for Sufferings, states, for the information of Friends, that the books and pamphlets in the "fire-proof and book-case" belonging to the Yearly Meeting are for distribution among those who desire to become acquainted with our religious principles and testimonies.

Members of the Representative Committee have access to the "fire-proof" by application to Benjamin Walton, on the premises.

It is expected that Friends who have a concern to distribute books and pamphlets contained therein will apply to any member of the committee appointed by his or her Quarterly Meeting.

A book is provided for the purpose of recording books taken out, and the name of the Friend granting the order, and it is desired that such entry shall not be omitted.

Report of the Committee on the John M. George Bequest.

To the Yearly Meeting:

The buildings for the George School were practically completed and ready for occupancy about Eleventh month 1st, 1893. We believe the work to have been done in a substantial manner, and that the buildings in their several departments are well suited for the purposes intended. Suitable stabling and sheds have also been erected. The grounds around the buildings have been graded, and good stone roads and walks made, from plans furnished by a competent landscape engineer. The Railroad Company have built a neat and attractive station on the school grounds. The grounds surrounding the station have been graded and improved, and the siding for freight is ample, with coal-bins for the use of the school, of about 200 tons capacity.

The amount expended on buildings and grounds is $188,177.44

Of this amount, including cost of all outside pipes and outside electric lamps, the cost of buildings has been $177,098.61

The more important items are as follows:

Brick and stone-work . . .	$ 39,056.41
Plumbing	11,213.08
Iron-work	11,819.74

Total, buildings, etc.	$177,098.61
Improvement of grounds . . .	11,078.83
Total	$188,177.44

Authority has been given for the erection of farm buildings, not to exceed in cost $5,000.

The amount charged to furnishing, as rendered in statement to trustees, was $21,807.83, comprising the following items:

Furniture	$5,186.41
Books and stationery	4,691.45
Hardware, cutlery, plated-ware	1,210.96
Dry goods	5,682.54
Queensware and house-furnishing goods	776.58
Apparatus	1,460.49
Sundry bills of smaller amount	2,799.40
Total	$21,807.83

The Opening of the School.

The school opened on Second-day, Eleventh month 6th, 1893, with a full attendance of boarding pupils. The whole number enrolled during the year is 155, 130 of whom are boarding, and 25 day scholars. They are classified as follows:

Boarders who are members of Society	87
Boarders who have one parent a member . . .	33
Boarders who have neither parent a member . .	10
Day Scholars who are members	4
Day Scholars having one parent a member . . .	4
Day Scholars not members	17

Of the boarders seventy are girls, and sixty are boys. Of he day scholars fifteen are girls, and ten are boys. The verage age is seventeen years.

There are eleven teachers, nine of whom are members of our Religious Society. All of the teachers and the boarding tudents attend meeting at Newtown on First-days, when the veather is suitable; otherwise in the assembly-room of the chool. The Mid-week Meetings are held on Fourth-day venings in the assembly-room. All attend the First-Day chool in the school building before meeting; meetings are lso held for the study of the history and literature of the ociety of Friends, and efforts are made to inculcate a love or the principles and testimonies of our religious Society.

The Library contains 464 volumes of miscellaneous litera- ire, and 46 books of reference, besides 1,008 volumes, etc., f Friends' writings that have been kindly presented by nterested Friends. A list of books has been prepared, and ie work of classification is in progress. It is hoped that dditions to both parts of the library will be made from time o time.

In the household department are employed our house- eeper, an assistant housekeeper, a baker, an engineer, four in ie laundry, and twelve others for various duties in the estab- shment. The laundry is supplied with improved modern achinery, and is working to entire satisfaction.

The Farm.

The available land for farming and pasture amounts to about 140 acres. It is now being farmed on shares. Suitable farm buildings have been contracted for, and it is expected the barn will be completed in time for this year's crops.

For the better and more systematic care of the school and grounds, on First month 26th, 1894, a rearrangement of the sub-committees of this committee was made as follows: An Admission Committee: To have charge of the admission and dismission of pupils. Household Committee: To employ the housekeeper and household help, and have an oversight of all the domestic affairs of the Institution. Instruction Committee: To employ teachers; with the teachers arrange the course of study, and select and care for school and text-books, supervise the instruction, and have the care of the library. Building and Grounds Committee: To have charge respecting the buildings and grounds, including the farm. Finance Committee: To manage the financial affairs, supervise and audit the accounts, supervise the purchase of all supplies, and as they may from time to time be authorized by the General Committee, draw on the Trustees for income of the endowment funds and from the principal for building purposes.

A considerable time before the opening of the school every place was filled, and before the middle of the first year, applicants for admission the year following had registered in numbers more than can be accommodated. The number of applicants beyond our capacity for boarding for next year is about twenty-nine, all of them children of Friends. The need of increased accommodation for boarding pupils being apparent, the committee have, after deliberation, authorized, subject to the approval of the Yearly Meeting, the Committee on Buildings and Grounds to make plans and proceed to erect a separate additional building to accommodate from thirty to forty pupils, also to provide for adequate accommodations for an Infirmary ; the whole not to exceed in cost the sum of $20,000.

It is also the judgment of the committee that all of the income now in hand, and that accruing from the principal of the Fund, be available for the use of the school, and subject to the order of this committee. They also ask that the additional sum of $30,000.00 from the principal be appropriated for the use of the committee.

The following report of the Finance Committee gives the amounts received and paid out to Fifth month 1st, 1894 :

Report of the Committe on Philanthropic Labor.

To the Yearly Meeting:

Our Committee on Philanthropic Labor has worked in the same departments of philanthropy as during the previous year, namely: The Indians; Temperance and Tobacco; The Colored People; Improper Publications, and Peace and Arbitration. Three meetings of the general committee have been held, to which the sub-committees have made interesting reports of their respective lines of work; a synopsis of these is given below.

The Committee on Indian Affairs has held three meetings during the past year, and some individual work has been done, but the way has not seemed open for much outside work, and efforts have consisted mainly in the distribution of literature respecting the Indians amongst Friends and others. There has been sent to each of the First-day schools in our yearly meeting a copy of a little book entitled "Stiya, a Carlisle Indian Girl at home," having first had it approved by several of our First-day School superintendents. The committee is preparing a full list of suitable books relating to the Indians, for use in First-day School work.

In Twelfth month last the committee held a general conference at 15th and Race streets, which was addressed by Amelia S. Quinton, president of the Woman's National Indian Association, and by Herbert Welsh, secretary of the Indian Rights Association. By direction of this conference a letter was prepared and forwarded to the Secretary of the Interior, requesting the reappointment of George Steel, an unusually efficient and faithful agent among the Blackfoot Indians, who had been removed without cause and an army officer appointed in his place.

No drafts have been made on the Benjamin Coates legacy, and the amount remains as last reported.

The Committee on Temperance and Tobacco reports that all the regular meetings of the general committee and its branches throughout the Quarters have been held and well attended; also fifty-eight public conferences held during the past year. In some of these the exercises were given entirely by the children and young people. Several well-known speakers have been present in different sections, and papers treating on the various phases of the subject read and discussed.

One hundred and fifty temperance almanacs and fifty copies of Temperance Banner and Water Lily were purchased for the use of missions. A number of scholars' pledges were printed and circulated. About the usual amount of literature, including pamphlets on "Tobacco, the Second Intoxicant," and "New Helps for the Drunkard," by Jenkin Lloyd Jones, were purchased and distributed. Committees having charge of Friends' schools were asked if scientific temperance instruction was given in schools under their care. Replies received show that in nearly all of the schools this branch of education is receiving care and attention.

The Evening Home for boys, which has been in successful operation in the northern part of Philadelphia, was removed to 35th street and Lancaster avenue, West Philadelphia, during the past year. This home continues to interest a number of our younger members, who have faithfully labored for it.

Four Young Friends' Temperance and Literary Societies continue their meetings; two of them with increasing membership and interest.

At one meeting of the committee a concern was felt that Friends should protest against the use of wines or liquors at class suppers, feasts, or any social meetings connected with their colleges or schools; and that our young people be importuned to beware of the first social glass.

The subject of providing a first-class temperance house in Philadelphia has continued to receive attention, but owing to the present period of financial depression it has not seemed to be a suitable time for inaugurating the enterprise.

In the "Colored People" department of Philanthropic Work there has been more than the usual activity. The disastrous storm in Eighth month, 1893, along the South Carolina coast, causing so much suffering, loss of life, destruction to property and crops, turned the sympathy of the charitable largely in that direction. It is estimated that 1,500 lives were destroyed by this calamity, while a second severe storm in Tenth month seemed to complete the devastation, which Friends visiting there afterwards said must be seen to be comprehended. One Friend remarked that "he marveled that these poor people could suffer so much and yet keep alive their faith in God."

The Mt. Pleasant school, being nearer to the scene of distress, was made the medium for much relief.

A circular was sent out by our committee, to which there was a generous response from the most of our monthly meetings. Over 335 barrels containing clothing, provisions, and other things needful for the destitute were sent to Abby D. Munro, and she, with her band of faithful assistants, carefully distributed them.

In the meantime the educational work at the Mt. Pleasant school was most prosperous, the school being full to overflowing. There has been no field labor to occupy the time of the children, and they could stay long enough to enter the advanced class, the promotion acting as a stimulus. The industrial work, too, goes steadily on, many of the boys doing good work in the cobbling shop, and the girls taking their daily lessons in sewing. The amount of money collected and forwarded to this school through our treasurer has been so far $415, which with the amounts from other yearly meetings and outside sources has enabled the teachers' salaries to be paid, which is a cause for thankfulness.

In a recent letter, one of the teachers thus writes: "The misfortune and distress of these people have made the winter a very trying one, but the prosperity of the school has been a source of great pleasure and gratification." The self-sacrifice of these women is most praiseworthy, and should stimulate those of us who are more favorably situated to contribute according to our means, so that their hands need not falter nor their brave spirits be depressed.

The Aiken school, being on a larger scale, and more advanced perhaps in its course of studies, has also received much care. Its industrial training, as well as its literary instruction, greatly commend it to Friends. It too has had to respond to the calls of destitution, and everything received has been put to good service. About 60 boxes and barrels have been shipped there through our committee, and many others direct, and $585.50 collected for the use of this school.

Efforts are being made to train these ignorant ones to become intelligent farmers. Some of these have endured so much of wrong and outrage while attempting to work on lands of their own, that it is but a Christian duty to so protect and direct them that they may be better able to work independently at farming, an industry that needs everywhere to be fostered. If means can be obtained to aid in this,—in addition to the admirable work done in the shops and the school,—these people can still further be redeemed from that ignorance and poverty which their former state of bondage entailed. It still remains for the friends of these schools to befriend them and "not weary in well doing," for it will take many generations to correct the wrongs inflicted by nearly two centuries of oppression.

The Peace and Arbitration Committee has given attention to the subject of its appointment, and has been encouraged by the addition of sixteen members of the General Committee, who volunteered their services in the work.

The petition on Peace and Arbitration addressed to the various governments, authorized to be signed by the Clerks of the last Yearly Meeting, was forwarded by this committee to the Peace Congress, held at Chicago, Eighth month 16th, 1893, where it was received and recognized. The petition was suitably prepared and addressed to thirty-one different governments.

Especial efforts were made at the Congress to secure as widely as possible the voice and co-operation of those who have not been distinctly and exclusively advocates of peace principles, but who from their wide experience in the affairs of their respective nations, civil or military, have had best opportunities to know the horrors of war, and are willing to bear their testimonies to the beauty of peace.

Although the committee seems to have accomplished but little, individual members have lost no opportunity of presenting the claims and reasonableness of these subjects.

The meetings of the Committee on Improper Publications have been regularly held but not largely attended. There was a conference meeting held early in the year, in which Aaron M. Powell gave a very acceptable address.

The Committee on Newspapers, News stands and Bill-posters are quietly working. They have had printed and distributed a circular to monthly meeting correspondents, calling attention to practical work that can be done by trying to influence editors and news-dealers to suppress news of a demoralizing character.

The attention of Temperance Conferences and First-day School Unions has been called to this branch of philanthropic labor, and there is a desire to engage in more vigorous work in this line of appeals to journalists to raise the moral standard of the press. Recognizing, however, that it is what the public demands that will be generally supplied, some attention has been given to the public schools by endeavoring to arouse the teachers to their responsibility in guiding the tastes of the young to that which will elevate the character.

At the meeting of the Executive Committee of Friends' Union for Philanthropic Labor (which is composed of representatives from all our yearly meetings), held Twelfth month 16th, 1893, in New York city, a circular letter, on the subject of reporting philanthropic work to the regular monthly meetings, was considered and approved; it was decided that a copy of the same be sent to the correspondent of each monthly meeting of the various yearly meetings. This circular was read and approved at a meeting of our committee held Fourth month 28th, 1894. The Philanthropic Union will meet Eighth month 13th, at Chappaqua, N. Y., when three days will be devoted to the discussions of the various subjects of Philanthropic work.

Orders have been drawn on the Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting during the past year for $142.08

Signed for, and on behalf of the Committee, Fourth month 28th, 1894.
